

Mark J. Ott MD

WELCOA BOARD MEMBER

*Medical Director for Surgical Services, Intermountain Healthcare
Chairman of the Department of Surgery at Intermountain Medical Center
Adjunct Associate Professor of Surgery at the University of Utah School of Medicine*

Dr. Ott received his medical degree from the University Of Utah School Of Medicine. He trained in general surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital. Subsequently he completed a Society of Surgical Oncology fellowship also at Johns Hopkins Hospital. He practiced surgical oncology at Massachusetts General Hospital and was a faculty member of the Harvard School of Medicine prior to being recruited to Intermountain Healthcare.

He has received multiple teaching awards for his efforts in educating medical students and residents.

In addition to his administrative, leadership, and educational responsibilities; he is also a practicing surgical oncologist specializing in Hepatobiliary and Pancreatic tumors, Sarcoma, as well complex upper gastrointestinal surgery, and other rare tumors.

His leadership interests center on recruiting physician/surgeons to participate in clinical program building and outcomes analysis and research. He continues to lead corporate wide initiatives across the 23 hospitals in the Intermountain Healthcare system to reduce the cost of surgical procedures by tens of millions of dollars per year.

He has served as the physician champion for Intermountain Medical Center's participation in the National Surgical Quality Improvement Program. He also has a strong interest in workplace wellness and serves as a Board Member for the Wellness Council of America (WELCOA).
